HOME CARE AND ALZHEIMER'S

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive, degenerative disorder that attacks the brain's nerve cells, or neurons, resulting in loss of memory, thinking and language skills, and behavioral changes. Alzheimer's disease is the most common cause of dementia, or loss of intellectual function, among people aged 65 and older.

Home care is a very helpful choice for both the person with Alzheimer's disease and their families because it provides the very kind of care that is most important – service in the comfort and familiarity of the patient's own place of residence. Criteria for home care admission, for persons with end stage dementia, may not always be well known - the issues of mobility, nutrition and weight, verbal communication, problems with infection and overall decline are evaluated. The psychological and physical support provided by home care teaching and supportive equipment can greatly relieve the family caregiver. Caring for a person with Alzheimer's Disease (AD) is a challenge that calls upon the patience, creativity, knowledge, and skills of each caregiver.

Our home heath agency treats patients with every kind of terminal condition and many different forms of dementia, including persons with ADRDs. A proper assessment of a patient addresses the needs of the person and his or her caregivers and family in a comprehensive fashion. This is especially important to the family of a person suffering from ADRDs, since this person may have difficulty communicating his or her needs to family members. More than those with other diseases, these patients spend a long period at the end of their lives bed bound, mostly unresponsive, and in need of total care. As with all of our patients, it is the goal of our home care program to care for the ADRD patient while supporting and comforting family and loved ones regardless of the setting or the patient's daily abilities. These communication challenges become part of the task of you, the caregiver.

It's common for people with Alzheimer's disease to have trouble with language. Perhaps the individual may try describing an object rather than using its name because of difficulty thinking of the correct word. For example, the person might refer to the telephone as "the ringer", or "that thing I call people with". It takes much patience to communicate with individuals who forget names, struggle for the words they want to use, never finish a sentence, or repeat the same phrase over and over--all problems that may be experienced by people with Alzheimer's disease. To facilitate communication, try these strategies:

* Relax. People with Alzheimer's communicate better when they do not feel pressured.

* Keep distractions to a minimum. Turn off the radio and television. If others are in the room, find a quiet spot.

* When the person has trouble expressing a thought, guess what may be meant by asking questions they can answer with a yes or no. For example, " Do you mean...?" or "Do you want to go...."?

* Sometimes people forget what they are saying and stop in the middle of a sentence. To help them start again, calmly repeat the last few words they said. If they can't continue, ask a question that relates to what they had been saying.

* Make sure you understand what they have said. Questions like, " You want to leave now, is that right?" or " You want some milk, don't you"? will verify what's been said.

* You may have to decipher a meaning from a few words. The person's tone of voice and body language may also help you figure out what they mean. For example, a shaky voice and fidgeting behavior may convey fear more than their words can. Many people have limited access to the words they want to use. "Walk now" may mean a person is uncomfortable and wants to leave the room.

ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE (AD) AND RELATED DEMENTIAS

History

Alzheimer's disease (AD) was first discovered in 1906 by a German doctor named Alois Alzheimer. It is a disorder of the brain, causing damage to brain tissue over a period of time. The disease can linger from 2 to 25 years before death results. AD is a progressive, debilitating and eventually fatal neurological illness affecting an estimated 4-5 million Americans. It is the most common form of dementing illness.

Alzheimer's disease is characterized clinically by early memory impairment followed by language and perceptual problems. This disease can affect anyone - it has no economic, social, racial or national barriers.

Causes

There is no one cause for Alzheimer's disease. AD may be sporadic or passed through the genetic make-up. The disease causes gradual death of brain tissue due to biochemical problems inside individual brain cells. The symptoms are progressive, but there is great variation in the rate of change from one person to another. Although in the early stages of Alzheimer's the victim may appear completely healthy, the damage is slowly destroying the brain cells. The hidden process damages the brain in several ways:

- Patches of brain cells degenerate (neuritic plaques)
- Nerve endings that transmit messages become tangled (neurofibrillary tangles)
- There is a reduction in acetylcholine, an important brain chemical (neurotransmitter)
- Spaces in the brain (ventricles become larger and filled with granular fluid)
- The size and shape of the brain alters - the cortex appears to shrink and decay

Understandably, as the brain continues to degenerate, there is a comparable loss in mental functioning. Since the brain controls all of our bodily functions, an Alzheimer victim in the later stages will have difficulty walking, talking, swallowing and controlling bladder and bowel functions. They become quite frail and prone to infections such as pneumonia.

Dementia vs. Normal Aging

As a person grows older, he/she worries that forgetting the phone number of a best friend must mean he/she is becoming demented or getting Alzheimer's disease. Forgetfulness due to aging or increased stress is not normal aging and is not dementia.

"Dementia" is an encompassing term for numerous forms of memory loss. There are many types of dementia such as Alzheimer's disease, Multi-Infarct dementia or Parkinson's disease. When a person has dementia, he/she will lose the ability to think, reason and remember and will inevitable need assistance with everyday activities such as dressing and bathing. Changes in personality, mood are also symptoms of dementia. Many dementias are treatable and reversible. Alzheimer's disease is the most common form of untreatable, irreversible dementia.

Alzheimer's Disease - Stages of Progression

Alzheimer's Disease can be characterized as having early, middle, and late stages through which the patient gradually progresses, but not at a predictable rate. The range of the course of the disease is 2-25 years. NOTE: Stages very often overlap. Everyone progresses through these stages differently.

First Stage: This is a very subtle stage usually not identified by either the impaired person or the family as the beginning signs of the disease. Subtle changes in memory and language along with some confusion occur at this time. The family usually denies or excuses the performance deficiencies at this stage.

- Forgetfulness/memory loss
- Impaired judgment
- Trouble with routines
- Lessening of initiative
- Disorientation of time and places

- Depression
- Fearfulness
- Personality change
- Apraxia (forgetting how to use tools and equipment)
- Anomia (forgetting the right word or name of a person)

Second Stage: As Stage 1 moves onto Stage 2, there is usually a particular significant event which forces the family (and impaired person) to consider that something is really wrong. At this time, they usually go to a doctor to diagnose the problem.

- Poor short-term memory
- Wandering (searching for home)
- Language difficulties
- Increased disorientation
- Social withdrawal
- More spontaneity, fewer inhibitions
- Agitation and restlessness, fidgeting, pacing
- Developing inability to attach meaning to sensory perceptions: (taste, touch, smell, sight, hearing)
- Inability to think abstractly
- Severe sleep disturbances and/or sleepiness
- Convulsive seizures may develop
- Repetitive actions and speech
- Hallucinations
- Delusions

Third (Final Stage): This stage is the terminal stage and may last for months or years. The individual will eventually need total personal care. They may no longer be able to speak or recognize their closest relatives.

- Little or no memory
- Inability to recognize themselves in a mirror
- No recognition of family or friends
- Great difficulty communicating
- Difficulty with coordinated movements
- Becoming emaciated in spite of adequate diet
- Complete loss of control of all body functions
- Increased frailty
- Complete dependence

COMMON PROBLEMS WITH DEMENTIA

Delusions

Suspiciousness: accusing others of stealing their belongings
People are "out to get them"
Fear that caregiver is going to abandon (results in AD person never leaving caregiver's side)
Current living space is not "home"

Hallucinations

Seeing or hearing people who are not present

Repetitive actions or questions

They forget they asked the question
Repetitive action such as wringing a towel

Wandering

Pacing
Sundowning: trying to get "home"
Generally feeling uncomfortable or restless
Increased agitation at night

Losing thing/Hiding things

Simply do not remember where items are
Might hide things so that people don't "steal" them

Inappropriate sexual behavior

Person with AD loses social graces and is only doing what feels good

Agnosia: inability to recognize common people or objects

A wife of forty years will become a stranger to the person with AD, he might even think she is the hired help

Might not recognize a spatula or the purpose of the spatula and/or cannot verbalize the name or purpose of the object

Apraxia: loss of ability to perform purposeful motor movements

Cannot tie a shoe or manipulate buttons on a shirt

Catastrophic reactions

(Causes) AD person often becomes excessively upset and can experience rapidly changing moods. The person becomes overwhelmed due to factors such as too much noise, too many people around, unfamiliar environment, routine change, being asked to many questions, being approached from behind.

(Reactions) AD person may become angry, agitated, weepy, stubborn or physically violent. It is best to attempt to avoid catastrophic reactions rather than dwell on how to handle them.

HANDLING DISTURBING BEHAVIORS

One of the most difficult challenges for caregivers is how to handle some of the disturbing behaviors that Alzheimer's can cause. Symptoms such as delusion, hallucinations, angry outbursts, suspiciousness, failure to recognize familiar people and places are often the most upsetting behaviors for families. The following points may help in responding to disturbing symptoms.

First, try to understand if there is a precipitating factor causing the behavior. Were there household changes, too much noise or activity, was the daily routine upset? Time of day can also affect behavior (Sundowning). Being aware of these factors can help to better plan activities or anticipate problems.

1. Keep tasks, directions and routine simple without being condescending
2. Always give the person plenty of time to respond
3. Attempt to remain calm and remind yourself that the behavior is due to the disease
4. Avoid arguing
5. Write down the answers to frequently asked questions, then remind them to look at the message
6. Reduce environmental noise: television, radio, too many people talking
7. Use distraction when unacceptable behavior starts: bring them into a different room, start talking about childhood or another favorite topic, show them magazines, ask them to help you do something like dusting or sweeping
8. Do not overreact or scold for problem behavior: redirect or distract
9. Be reassuring with touch, eye contact and tone of voice
10. Find the familiar: old pipe, favorite chair, family pictures
11. Avoid denying hallucinations: try non-committal comments like, "You spoke with your mother, I miss my mother too"
12. Be sure to inform physician of hallucinations, no matter how tame
13. Restless behavior or pacing is usually unavoidable, however you can make the environment safe by installing locks that are above reach, remove unnecessary obstacles, make sure the person is wearing some kind of identification

Dear staff

Effective October 1, 2013, you and/or your family members may purchase health insurance coverage through a new health insurance marketplace, instead of taking coverage through the employer's health plan. Any coverage you purchase in the health insurance marketplace will be effective on January 1, 2014, if you and/or your family member enroll on or before December 15, 2013. You and/or your family members may purchase health insurance coverage through the health insurance marketplace no later than March 31, 2014, but the effective date of such coverage will vary depending on the date of enrollment.

We are required by federal law to provide you with the attached notice. The purpose of this notice is to inform you of the existence of the health insurance marketplace, give you a description of the services provided by the health insurance marketplace, and tell you how to contact the health insurance marketplace to request assistance.

In addition, this notice helps you determine whether you are eligible for a premium tax credit or a cost-sharing reduction through the health insurance marketplace. You may be eligible if the employer's plan's share of the total cost of benefits is less than 60%, the coverage is unaffordable, or if you are not eligible for the coverage. The health insurance marketplace will qualify you for any premium tax credit or a cost sharing reduction.

Finally, the notice informs you that if you purchase coverage through the health insurance marketplace, you may lose any employer contribution toward the cost of employer-provided coverage.

If you have any questions regarding this notice, please contact the Administrator.

Sincerely,

New Health Insurance Marketplace Coverage Options and Your Health Coverage

Form Approved
OMB No. 1210-0149
(expires 11-30-2013)

PART A: General Information

When key parts of the health care law take effect in 2014, there will be a new way to buy health insurance: the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?

The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. You may also be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premium right away. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace begins in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?

You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that doesn't meet certain standards. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?

Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that meets certain standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and may wish to enroll in your employer's health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium, or a reduction in certain cost-sharing if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that meets certain standards. If the cost of a plan from your employer that would cover you (and not any other members of your family) is more than 9.5% of your household income for the year, or if the coverage your employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit.[1]

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered by your employer, then you may lose the employer contribution (if any) to the employer-offered coverage. Also, this employer contribution -as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage- is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes. Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?

The Marketplace can help you evaluate your coverage options, including your eligibility for coverage through the Marketplace and its cost. Please visit HealthCare.gov for more information, including an online application for health insurance coverage and contact information for a Health Insurance Marketplace in your area.

[1] An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.

PART B: Information About Health Coverage Offered by Your Employer

This section contains information about any health coverage offered by your employer. If you decide to complete an application for coverage in the Marketplace, you will be asked to provide this information. This information is numbered to correspond to the Marketplace application.

3. Employer name		4. Employer Identification Number (EIN)
5. Employer address		6. Employer phone number
7. City	8. State	9. ZIP code
10. Who can we contact about employee health coverage at this job?
11. Phone number (if different from above)	12. Email address

Here is some basic information about health coverage offered by this employer:

- As your employer, we offer a health plan to:
  - ☐ All employees.
  - ☐ Some employees. Eligible employees are:

- With respect to dependents:
  - ☐ We do offer coverage. Eligible dependents are:
  - ☒ We do not offer coverage.

☐ If checked, this coverage meets the minimum value standard, and the cost of this coverage to you is intended to be affordable, based on employee wages.

 Even if your employer intends your coverage to be affordable, you may still be eligible for a premium discount through the Marketplace. The Marketplace will use your household income, along with other factors, to determine whether you may be eligible for a premium discount. If, for example, your wages vary from week to week (perhaps you are an hourly employee or you work on a commission basis), if you are newly employed mid-year, or if you have other income losses, you may still qualify for a premium discount.

If you decide to shop for coverage in the Marketplace, HealthCare.gov will guide you through the process. Here's the employer information you'll enter when you visit HealthCare.gov to find out if you can get a tax credit to lower your monthly premiums.

The information below corresponds to the Marketplace Employer Coverage Tool. Completing this section is optional for employers, but will help ensure employees understand their coverage choices.

13. Is the employee currently eligible for coverage offered by this employer, or will the employee be eligible in the next 3 months?

☐ Yes (Continue)

13a. If the employee is not eligible today, including as a result of a waiting or probationary period, when is the employee eligible for coverage? _____ (mm/dd/yyyy) (Continue)

☒ No (STOP and return this form to employee)

14. Does the employer offer a health plan that meets the minimum value standard*?
☐ Yes (Go to question 15) ☒ No (STOP and return form to employee)

15. For the lowest-cost plan that meets the minimum value standard* offered only to the employee (don't include family plans): If the employer has wellness programs, provide the premium that the employee would pay if he/ she received the maximum discount for any tobacco cessation programs, and didn't receive any other discounts based on wellness programs.
a. How much would the employee have to pay in premiums for this plan? $
b. How often? ☐ Weekly ☐ Every 2 weeks ☐ Twice a month ☐ Monthly ☐ Quarterly ☐ Yearly

If the plan year will end soon and you know that the health plans offered will change, go to question 16. If you don't know, STOP and return form to employee.

16. What change will the employer make for the new plan year?
☒ Employer won't offer health coverage
☐ Employer will start offering health coverage to employees or change the premium for the lowest-cost plan available only to the employee that meets the minimum value standard.* (Premium should reflect the discount for wellness programs. See question 15.)
a. How much will the employee have to pay in premiums for that plan? $
b. How often? ☐ Weekly ☐ Every 2 weeks ☐ Twice a month ☐ Monthly ☐ Quarterly ☐ Yearly

Date of change (mm/dd/yyyy):

* An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs (Section 36B(c)(2)(C)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986)

HEPATITIS B DECLARATION FORM

Hepatitis B is a major infectious occupational health hazard in the Health-Care industry. The critical risk for health personnel is contact with blood and other body fluids. Persons previously infected with hepatitis B virus are immune to the disease, for persons who have not had the disease, Hepatitis B it vaccine will provide immunity. The vaccine is given in three separate doses and failure to receive all doses may cause the vaccine to be ineffective and not result in immunity. Clinical studies have shown that 85 to 96 percent of those vaccinate evidence immunity. Periodic testing of vaccinated persons for antibody to Hepatitis B will confirm immune status.

I understand that due to my risk or occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious material I may be at risk of acquiring Hepatitis B virus (HBV) infections, I have been given the opportunity to be vaccinated with Hepatitis B vaccine, at no charge to my self.

I have read the above information and have received verbal and written instructions regarding the efficacy, risk and complications of receiving the vaccine. Any questions I had have been answered. I acknowledge that I am aware of the availability of the Hepatitis B vaccine and the benefit that such vaccination provides in the prevention of infection with Hepatitis B virus.

☐ I decline Hepatitis B vaccination at this time because I have been previously immunized with a complete series (three injections) of the Hepatitis B vaccine or I have been diagnosed as having tine Hepatitis B virus disease and I am immune.

☐ I decline Hepatitis B vaccination at this time. I understand that by declining this vaccine, I continue to be at risk or acquiring Hepatitis B. If in the future I continue to have occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious material and I want to be Vaccinated with Hepatitis B vaccine, I may receive the vaccination series at no charge to me (DOH may have a list of free vaccination places)

☐ I accept vaccination with the hepatitis B vaccine.
